

9. Spaced Out

Aisha smiled a big smile as her zoomed toward the bottom of the crater she let out a roar of joy as she balanced herself on the heavy ice skates. The sound was lost in the deeply silence of space. She reached the bottom with a rush and continued up the other side. Near the top, she turned around for another trip to the bottom. Was it time to set down No, it was not. She zooms back down again. She looked up in the sky and saw Earth. Then she knew she dreaming.

Aisha dreams of roller skating in a crater on the Moon.

Find the 8 errors in this activity. There are no errors in the illustration or the caption.
